The Birds at Dinner.

If we notice carefully the habits of all the birds we see, it will help us by indicating their habits of feeding, to locate them in their families and thus lead us to their correct names. All the sparrows have short, stout beaks, well suited to cracking open seeds and grain, which are their usual food. The thrushes have a curved bill, convenient for holding worms and digging in the soil. They find most of their food on the ground, poking among the dead leaves and rubbish for grubs, beetles and larvae. Our robins, which are true thrushes, do valuable spring work in the garden and lawn pulling worms from the soil. Have you ever watched a robin at work? How he tugs and pulls when the worm is long and does not come easily! There are an energy and a certain business air about him when at work which are very interest- ing. The tiny humming birds, with their long, needle shaped bills, are well equipped for securing honey from the very heart of the trumpet flowers and honeysuckles. They find numerous small insects within the flower as well as honey.
